Hey Alan:

Thanks for your message. We also found it helpful meeting with you and I'm always glad to find time to talk in more detail – particularly since I sense that part of the concern we may both be facing is the lack of consistent communication and need for more current information. And David is certainly welcome to join us. I may reach out to Craig Schmauder and see if he can join us too. If you're comfortable with that – I'll see what his schedule looks like and if one day works better than the other.

I'll get back to you quickly.

Best,

Greg

Subject: follow up meeting

Thanks again to you, Joel and Benita for taking time last week to meet with the folks from Huiday and me to discuss the Rosemont mine project in southern Arizona. We found the discussion to be helpful and informative with regard to the permitting process, and greatly appreciated the time and consideration that you gave to us.

I would like to schedule a time with you to follow up on a few procedural questions that we still have regarding the process. Are you in town next week? If so, is there a time next Tuesday or Thursday, March 29 or 31, when I might come by your office to talk with you? My schedule on each of those dates is fairly flexible, so just let me know if there is particular time or times that might work best for you.

I have copied David Bernhardt of the Brownstein Hyatt law firm, with whom I have been working on this project, as David would like to join us for this follow up conversation.

I look forward to seeing you soon. Thanks.
